ISBN 966-608-640-9

Практикум містить граматичні вправи з основних тем англійської граматики: часи дієслова, прийменники, модальні дієслова, неособові форми дієслова, інфінітив, герундій, пасивний стан, непряма мова, умовне речення, умовний спосіб після I wish. Практикум передбачає роботу студентів над вправами під керівництвом викладача і самостійно. Вправи можна використовувати для додаткової роботи на практичних заняттях.

Для студентів, які мають середній рівень знань з англійської мови, і викладачів.
Передмова

Пропонований посібник є другим, виправленням і доповненням виданням “Практикуму з граматики англійської мови”. У ньому враховано практичний досвід роботи автора та зауваження рецензентів і викладачів-практиків, які працювали з посібником. “Практикум з граматики англійської мови” призначений студентам із середнім рівнем знань англійської мови, які вже мають базові знання і прагнуть систематизувати та поглибити їх. Практикум можна використовувати для повторення і як засіб для відпрацьовування нових граматичних структур. Він може стати у пригоді студентам з вищим рівнем знань, які мають певні проблеми з окремих положень англійської граматики і потребують матеріалу для практичних вправ, а також викладачам англійської мови як додатковий матеріал у роботі із студентами з окремих розділів англійської граматики.

Практикум містить вправи з таких розділів англійської граматики: часи дієслова, модальні дієслова, інфінітив, герундій, пасивний стан, умовні речення. Розділи упорядковано таким чином, щоб студенти мали можливість творчо використовувати їх у процесі вивчення англійської мови згідно з навчальною програмою.

Посібник можна використовувати для групової та індивідуальної роботи студентів незалежно від їх професійного профілю. Автор висловлює подяку рецензентам професору І. А. Хижняку і доценту О. Г. Яровій за зауваження та побажання, висловлені під час роботи над посібником.

Ex. 85. For each of the following, decide on the best form to use: be going to or will.

According to sociologists, some parents in North America find it difficult to let their children go away to college in another city or state/province after they graduate from high school. It is customary to send young people away to the best possible university. North Americans feel that by going away to college, their children ... learn to be independent and self-sufficient, two qualities that are valued in their culture.

These traditional parents, however, are worried about their children’s safety. They’re afraid that something bad ... happen to their son or daughter and they ... be [negative] able to protect them. Some parents don’t think their children ... be successful on their own. They’re afraid that the young people ... fail, that they ... be [negative] able to do with everything, such as studying, doing laundry, and taking care of themselves. College officials and students say that these parents are also worried that their sons and daughters ... forget their family backgrounds and ... want [negative] to go back home.

Many young high school graduates, on the other hand, want to go away to college. Marilyn Stanford, a senior at Houston High School, said to her parents, “Look, I ... be 18 soon and legally I ... be able to leave, with or without your permission.” Other students are more sensitive when they convince their parents. Sean Brown, another high school senior who just received a letter of acceptance from the University of Iowa, told his parents, “I ... answer this letter right away and I ... say “yes”. And with my scholarship, I ... save you money, too. Some day you ... be proud of me.” Still others don’t even apply to colleges that are out of state. “My mom and dad are super strict. I know what they ... say, so I ... apply to the local community college,” says Ramon Sierra.

Yesterday morning was an ordinary morning. I got up at 6:30. I washed my face and brushed my teeth. Then I put on my jeans and... a sweater. I went to the kitchen and started the electric coffee maker. Then I walked down my driveway to get the morning paper. While I was walking to get the paper, I saw a deer. It was eating the flowers in my garden. After I watched the deer for a little while, I made some noise to make the deer run away before it destroyed my flowers. As soon as I got back to the kitchen, I poured myself a cup of coffee and opened the morning paper. While I was reading the paper, my teenage daughter came downstairs. We talked about her plans for the day. I helped her with her breakfast and made a lunch for her to take to school. After we said goodbye, I ate some fruit and cereal and finished reading the newspaper. Then I went to my office. My office is in my home. My office has a desk, a computer, a radio, a TV set, a copy machine, and a lot of bookshelves. I worked all morning. While I was working, the phone rang many times. I talked to many people. At 11:30, I went to the kitchen and made a sandwich for lunch. As I said, it was an ordinary morning.

Ex. 98. Make the sentences grammatically correct.

Most North American children begin to work at home, where they are having daily and/or weekly responsibilities, such as washing dishes and feeding the dog. Children receive a weekly allowance often, which is a small amount of money, like a salary, in exchange for doing these household chores or jobs. The children are using these money to buy candy, soda, and other items they need for school. Others often save their allowance and making bigger purchases: computer games, a pet, a musical instrument, or extra activities at summer camp.

The purpose of the allowance is to teach children the value of money, and to teach them responsibility — when they work and do a good job, they aren’t receive the money. North Americans often eat out at fast-food restaurants because they no have time to prepare food at home.

These restaurants serve almost anything from pizza to fried chicken to good old hamburgers; some people eat inside, and others stay in their car and buying food from the drive-through window.

Some Americans hardly never eat at home; they depend on these inexpensive restaurants for their meals.

For example, never my brother prepares his own food at home — he always goes out to the fast-food restaurants and eats hamburgers and French fries.

Are you think it is healthy to eat that salty, processed, overcooked food?

Ron and Sue, a modern young couple, hardly never do anything without a plan — they always talk together about plans for their jobs, their home, and their family.

Sue is expecting; next month she and Ron are going to have a baby. Their doctor will say that Sue is having a normal pregnancy.

Sue and Ron are knowing what they are going to name the baby. If it is a girl, they’ll name her Susan, and if it is a boy, they will name him Richard.

Sue is following all the doctor’s instructions. She’s reading a lot of books about pregnancy and childbirth, and she won’t take classes at the local hospital. When the time comes, she’ll be ready.

It’s time! Sue is going to have her baby very soon. She will need to go to the hospital right now, but Ron can’t find the car keys.

Ex. 120. Read this application letter. There are seven mistakes in it. Find and correct them. Use: Present Perfect, Present and Past.

Dear Mr. Johnson,

I would like to apply for the job of shop manager, which I see, advertised in the local newspaper.

I am twenty years old. I was born in France but my family moved to England when I was twelve and I am living here ever since. I have several jobs in shops for three years and since then I am working in Halls department store.

The manager has been saying that he is willing to give me a reference.

I speak French and English fluently and I have learnt German since I left school, so I speak some German too.

I hope you will consider my application.

Yours sincerely,

Angela Whither

Ex. 121. Find mistakes in the use of the Present Perfect and the Simple Past and correct them.

Dear Olga,

Last month I have met the most wonderful guy. His name is Gary, and he is a student in our college. He lived here since 2001. Before that he lived in Liverpool too, so we have a lot in common. Gary has been married for five years but got divorced last September.

Gary and I spent a lot of time together. Last week I saw him every night, and this week we’ve already got together three times after class. Monday night we have seen a great movie. Did you see “Mousetrap”? It’s playing at all the theatres.

We decided to take a trip back to Liverpool in the summer. Maybe we can get together? It would be great to see you again. Please let me know if you’ll be there.

Love,

Petra

Ex. 123. Use Present Simple, Present Continuous, Present Perfect, Past Simple, Past Continuous or Future Tense of the verbs in brackets.

Dear Peter,

Hi! How are you? Remember me? Just a joke! I (write, not) ... to you for at least six months, but that’s not long enough for you to forget me! I think about writing to you often, but I (be, not) ... a good correspondent for the last few months. You (hear, not) ... from me for such a long time because I (be) ... really busy. For the last few months, I (work) ... full-time at a shoe store and (go) ... to school at the local community college to study business and computers.
When I (write) ... to you six months ago – last April, I think — I (go) ... to the university full-time and (study) ... anthropology. A lot of things (happen) ... since then.

At the end of the spring semester last June, my grades (be) ... terrible. As a result, I (lose) ... my scholarship and my parents’ support. I really (mess) ... up when I (get) ... those bad grades. When I (show) ... my grade report to my parents, they (refuse) ... to help me with my living expenses at school anymore. They (feel) ... that I was wasting my time and their money, so they (tell) ... me to get a job. So last June, I (start) ... working at a shoe store. It (not, be) ... a bad job, but it (be, not) ... wonderful either. Every day, I (fetch) ... shoes from the black room for people to try on, boxes and boxes of shoes, all day long.

I (meet) ... some pretty weird people since I (start) ... this job. A couple of weeks ago, a middle-aged man (come) ... into the store. He (want) ... to try on some black leather loafers. I (bring) the loafers, and he (put ) ... them on. While he (walk) ... around to see if they fit okay, he (pull) ... from his pocket a little white mouse with pink eyes and (start) ... talking to it. He (look) right at the mouth and (say) ... , “George, (you, like) ... this pair of shoes?” When the mouse (twitch) ... its nose, the man (say) ..., “Yes, so do I.” Then he (turn) ... to me and (say), ... “We’ll take them.” Can you believe that!?

Most of the people I meet are nice – and normal. My favorite customers (be) ... people who (know) ... what they want when they (enter) ... the store. They (come) ... in, (point) ... at one pair of shoes, politely (tell) ... me their size, (try) ... the shoes on, and then (buy) ... them, just like that. They (think, not) ... for a long time over which pair to buy.

I (learn) ... one important thing from working at the shoe store: I (want, not) ... to sell shoes as a career. I (need) ... a good education that (prepare) ... me for a job that I can enjoy for the rest of my life. And even though I love studying anthropology, I (decide) ... that a degree in business and computers will provide the best career opportunities.

I (want, always) ... to be independent, and now I (be) ... . I (have) ... to pay every penny of my tuition and living expenses now. Ever since I (lose) ... my scholarship and (make) ... my parents mad, I (be) ... completely on my own. I’m glad to report that my grades at present (be) ... excellent, and right now I (enjoy, really) ... my work with computers. In the future, I (continue) ... to take courses in anthropology whenever I can fit them into my schedule, and (study) ... anthropology on my own for the rest of my life, but I (pursue) ... a career in business. Maybe there is some way I can combine anthropology, business, and computers. Who knows?

There, I (tell) ... you everything I can think of that is at all important in my life at the moment. I think I (grow) ... up a lot during the last six months. I (understand) ... that my education is important. Losing my scholarship (make) ... my life more difficult, but I (feel) ... that I (take, finally) ... charge of my life. It’s a good feeling.

Please write. I’d love to hear from you.

Maria

MARY: Because the road (2) ... (close) until work on the access road to the new hospital (3) ... (complete).
NEIL: When is it due to (4) ... (finish)?
MARY: Well, the access road (5) ... (open) by the Mayor next week, according to the newspaper, and the health Minister (6) ... (invite) to open the hospital on the same day, but they don’t know yet whether she’s definitely coming.
NEIL: A lot of money (7) ... (waste) if she doesn’t come.
MARY: Why’s that?
NEIL: Haven’t you seen all those rose bushes that (8) ... (plant) round the hospital?
MARY: So? They’ll be lovely for the patients.
NEIL: Bit the patients won’t be able to see them, because they’re round the entrance, and the wards look out in the other direction.
A lot of people protested about it, but all their complaints (9) ... (ignore) until it was too late.

MARY: If they had money to spare, it (10) ... (spend) on the facilities for patients, not on making the front look pretty for the Minister.

NEIL: Absolutely. It’s typical of this local council. They (11) ... (elect) to save money, but they do just the opposite.

MARY: Perhaps they (12) ... (throw) out at the next election.

Neil: I hope so. Now, are you ready for supper?

Ex. 247. Make up a dialogue from the following story.

Joan worked in a shop selling gramophone records. One day a middle-aged woman came in, sat on a stool in front of the counter and beamed at Joan. Addressing Joan familiarly, she said she wanted a record – one she had heard on the radio that morning. Joan asked what the record was called. The woman shook her head, and said she didn’t remember, though she would know it if she heard it. She suggested that Joan should play her some, and settled herself comfortably on her stool. Joan pointed out that they had hundreds of records in stock, and that it would take a very long time to play her even a little of each. She asked the lady if she could hum it to her. The woman giggled, and replied that she couldn’t sing “God save the Queen” in tune. They would get into a worse muddle if she started humming. She looked very depressed, but suddenly her face brightened. She had just remembered, she said; it came from a play in which there was a woman who spoke very badly, but who after a time learned to talk beautifully. Joan asked if it would be from My Fair Lady. The woman exclaimed that that was it. She wished Joan had thought of it earlier instead of wasting time asking silly questions. She supposed Joan was new to the shop.

(2) ... urgently the need of consultation and conversation, and selecting for the purpose her young cousin, Midge Hardcastle, (3) ... arrived at The Hollow the night before, Lady Angkatell slipped quickly out of bed and went along the passage to Midge’s room. Since she was a woman of rapid thought processes, Lady Angkatell, (4) ... was her invariable custom, commenced the conversation in her own (5) ... supply, Midge’s answers out of her own fertile imagination.

The conversation was in full (6) ... when Lady Angkatell flung open Midge’s door.

“And so, darling, you really must agree that the weekend is going to present difficulties!”

“Eh? Hwah!” Midge grunted inarticulately, (7) ... thus abruptly from a satisfying and deep sleep.

Lady Angkatell crossed to the window, opening the shutters and jerking up the blind with a brisk movement, letting in the pale light of a September dawn.

“Birds!” she observed, peering with kindly pleasure (8) ... the pane. “So sweet.”

“What?”

“Well, at any (9) ... the weather isn’t going to present difficulties. It looks (10) ... it had set in fine. That’s something. Because if a lot of discordant personalities are boxed up indoors, I’m sure you will agree with me that it makes it ten times worse.”

INTERMEDIATE VOCABULARY TEST 5

Ex. 287. Complete the following text with the words below (use only half the words)

If the claims of the camera makers are to be believed, then every picture taken should be a winner. Automated film transport takes the film into the camera and then winds it on between frames; auto-exposure ensures “living colours and a perfect balance of tones” no ___ what the lighting conditions; while autofocus means you will never have to look at a photograph ever again in your life. Strange, then, that so many people express ___ when they see their prints back from the processor.

The ___ for this is that good photography has little to do with the type of camera you use. It’s just as easy to take a bad picture with an excellent camera as it is to take a good picture with even the most basic ___ of equipment.

The tendency of many automated camera systems is to encourage users to confine their photography to the types of situation the automatics ___ with best. This often means centrally placed subjects the autofocus cannot confuse, with the sun positioned directly behind the photographer. ___, taking good photographs means ___ and then making the most of whatever it is your subject has to offer.

The first part of this magic formula means really looking at your subject before pressing the shutter. Look out, for example, for features to the side or in the ___ that would be better included or, just as important, excluded.
whether your subject is looking directly into the sunlight and is squinting as a result. A slight change of camera position might be all that is needed to improve your composition or finding some shade might be the answer.

Ex. 292. Read the text below and then choose the correct answer.

Three men chased a mugger into East Putney station, London, after he punched and kicked an elderly woman, but were turned back at the barrier because they had no tickets, it was stated at the Central Criminal Court yesterday.

They were refused use of a telephone to call the police, so they bought platform tickets, went into the station and caught the attacker, a youth of 17. One of the pursuers had to go outside to make a 999 call.

Mr. Justice Milford Stevenson said the incident deserved to be brought to the attention of the railway authorities. He sent the mugger to jail for five years.

Terry Tailor earlier had admitted assaulting Mrs. Margaret Percy, aged 67, with intent to rob her.

The Practice Book contains grammar exercises in the main sections of the English Grammar: The Verb Tenses, Prepositions, Modal Verbs, Non-Finite Forms of the Verb, the Infinitive, the Gerund, the Passive Voice, Reported Speech, Conditionals, and Subjunctive Mood with ‘wish’. The second, revised edition of the Practice Book is supplemented with grammar tests for revision of sections and checking the progress of studying English. The Practice Book envisages work under teacher’s guidance and individual work of students at the exercises. The exercises can be used for extra work at the class lessons.

For Intermediate students of the English Language and lecturers.
